- Commission awards €218 million in grants for post-doctoral researchers
The European Commission has today announced the results of the 2016 bid for post-doctoral research funding from the Marie-Skłodowska-Curie Actions, part of the EU's Horizon 2020 programme. Almost 1 200 researchers with the highest potential to make a game-changing impact on our society and economy were awarded grants totaling more than €218 million. November 2016 saw the launch of year-long celebrations marking the 20th anniversary of the Marie-Skłodowska-Curie Actions, a programme dedicated to boosting excellence by supporting the human resources that drive research and innovation.
- European Commission imposes anti-dumping duties on steel products from China and Taiwan
The Commission decided today to impose definitive anti-dumping measures on two steel products originating in China and Taiwan. The Commission's investigation confirmed that Chinese and Taiwanese stainless steel tube and pipe butt-welding fittings had been sold in Europe at dumped prices. Chinese exports will now be taxed with anti-dumping duties ranging from 30.7% to 64.9%. Taiwanese exports will face anti-dumping duties ranging from 5.1% to 12.1%. More information is available in today's EU official journal.
- Antimicrobial resistance: Commission launches public consultation on new Action Plan
Today, the Commission launches a public consultation on possible activities to include in the new "One Health" Action Plan against antimicrobial resistance (AMR) it plans to adopt by summer 2017. The consultation includes a questionnaire for public administrations and stakeholders and a questionnaire for citizens, to ensure that everyone has their voice heard on how best the Action Plan can support EU countries in the fight against AMR. The consultation will run until 28 April 2017. To participate in the public consultation, and for more information on AMR see online.
